

WEEK EIGHT | DEALING WITH SEXUAL IMMORALITY

As I said in our last discussion, don't let this one scare you. Clearly, sexuality is a big deal in our lives. Single, married, dating, whatever the situation, we live in a culture saturated with sex and desire. It is what it is. Again, nothing much has changed since the beginning of time. However, one huge thing has changed regarding sexuality... mass media. Sexual signals are everywhere, on our tv's, on our phones, in our books, through our eyes and minds. The question is, how do we stand a chance against all these odds?

God made us to be holy and filled with his Spirit. Why are the odds stacked so highly against us regarding sexuality?

THE SITUATION

Let's do what Aimee described in her message. When we hear the following scripture (Paul speaking to the Corinthians), think about how you interpret what he is saying. What does it teach you about you? What does it teach you about God?

Read 1 Corinthians 6:12-20

Morally, why can't we just live and be free?

How could sexual freedom, which is culturally accepted then and now, hurt us individually and as a body of believers?

TALK ABOUT IT

What is the significance of joining together spiritually?

Read 1 Peter 3:7

How much better would life be if we lived to honor one another with our bodies and minds?

Aimee said that “Jesus changes everything. Not just one thing. EVERYTHING.”

How does a “resurrected life” see sexuality differently than a regular life?

APPLY IT

Paul says to “Run from sexual immorality.” How realistic is that when it is everywhere?

How can you effectively “run” from it like he said to do?

PRAY

Start now and make this time an indispensable part of your group time. It can be at the beginning, end, or wherever but don't overlook it. We have plenty to pray about.

- Pray together before you go home.
- Take requests, email them to the group, ask them to pray this week.
